

WHACK Fall 2016

September 24-25 // Wellesley College // estimated 100 attendees

Dear Potential Sponsor,

WHACK's committee invites you to join our support system for all technical students, and especially for women in tech. WHACK aims to be inclusive and to provide a safe space for undergrads, Wellesley College students, and first-time hackers to explore their creative potential.

Why Sponsor?

1. Meet amazing, excited, and aspiring students!
2. Get early access to their resumes and portfolios.
3. Present your products and APIs, and watch students unleash their creativity.
4. Provide employees opportunities to mentor and inspire women and other students to keep pursuing opportunities in tech.

We're bringing eager, energetic participants from Wellesley and other schools to build something awesome and collaborate with each other for an entire weekend. We would love for you to meet enthusiastic women and undergrads. Join WHACK's mentor-based experience!
